

FRED G. MANRIQUE ABRIL

National Columbia University, Columbia

Prof. Manrique Abril's qualifications are nurse, lawyer, master in public health, master in primary health care, public health doctor, PhD Clinical research, social management specialist and doctor in public management and social policy.

Prof. Manrique Abril is a full professor at the National University and at the Pedagogical and Technological University of Colombia (UPTC). He is a senior researcher leader and coordinator of the health and nursing management research group. As a nurse and lawyer and researcher, he has validated instruments related to the quality of health care and care management, his latest book on reification brings us closer to the humanization of care in the professional nursing environment